Warren Carver Seeks SL Mayor's Seat

Warren Carver, mayor of St. Louis from 1949 to 1955, has made formal announcement of his candidacy for mayor in the forthcoming May election.

WARREN CARVER

Carver, 67, did not seek reelection at the expiration of his term as mayor, but returned to his business, Carver Plumbing Co., and has continued to operate successfully in partnership with two other firm members of St. Stanislaus, who served three years during World War II in the European Theater of Operations, and then returned to Bay St. Louis where he and his wife raised a family of four children.

In addition to Carver's previous term as mayor, he had served as a public official from 1936 when he served as clerk of court. He has served the State Department of Audit for a seven-year period, where he gained experience in the fields of municipal finance and management. Carver is the current president of the Hancock County Republican Association and has held this position for five years. He is one of the founders and the president of the Bay St. Louis Civic Union. He is also president of the Hancock County Community Relations Council, and served for many years as a member of the Board of Directors of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and was Chamber president for many years.

GE Leases New Space

The General Electric Company has leased the 7,722 square-foot building at 150 Main St. in Bay St. Louis, Miss., to provide additional office facilities for new contractual work of the GE Mississippi Test Support Department.

John R. Picard, acting general manager of GE-MTSD, said the facility has been leased from McDonald Realty Co., Inc. of Bay St. Louis. Terms of the lease were not announced. Some modifications and renovations of the building have been accomplished, and new furniture and equipment installed, according to Picard. Initially, he said, the facility will be used by approximately 40 GE-MTSD engineers, technicians and administrative personnel.

The building has been in use by the General Electric organization since May, 1965, primarily as an employment and personnel center.

Mosquito Control Program Underway in Coast Counties

Gulf Coast Mosquito Control Commission crews have begun fogging operations about two weeks earlier than in 1968. A sharp rise in salt-marsh mosquito densities in eastern Jackson County made this early start necessary, according to Chris Elmore, Commission director. Fog trucks began working in the Pascagoula-Moss Point-Bayou Cassote areas.

Daytime salt-marsh mosquito counts Wednesday, April 9, average 8.7 mosquitoes per minute in the coastal areas of Jackson County and the Pascagoula River. Countrywide, the average was 4.3, a sharp increase from the average of 0.55 Friday, March 28 and 0.91 on Monday, March 31. The highest count was obtained in the Bayou Cassote area near the refinery where mosquitoes landed on the inspector at the rate of over 50 per minute in each of 3 counts. At fifteen other representative stations east of the Pascagoula River, counts (averages of the 3 counts made at each station) ranged from 1 to 17 salt-marsh mosquitoes per minute.

Salt-marsh mosquito counts in marshes between Ocean Springs and Gautier are on the increase, according to observations made by mosquito control commission crews working in these areas. By noon Wednesday, April 9, however, there had been no major movement of salt-marsh mosquitoes out of the marsh into the populated residential areas.

Fogging began Thursday night, April 10, in localities where counts showed the salt-marsh mosquito problem to be the greatest. The six Gulf Coast Mosquito Control Commission fog trucks were to work each night until all problem areas are covered. Most areas showing high counts Wednesday were expected to be fogged by Saturday night. Mosquito counts Friday were expected to show additional mosquito movement into other areas, with generally increasing counts from Gautier west towards Ocean Springs. Those areas will be fogged as quickly as possible, with localities having the highest mosquito counts getting first priority.

Salt-marsh mosquito counts Wednesday, April 9, showed a low level of annoyance in coastal areas of Harrison County (average count of 0.08) and Hancock County (average count of 0.69). Although counts at the regular stations were generally low, Commission field crews working in Hancock County reported higher concentrations in certain salt-marsh areas. Some increase in annoyance can be expected in residential areas near these marshes.

If the generally mild weather continues, the usual spring drop of fresh-water mosquitoes can be expected to cause some annoyance during early April. These mosquitoes are produced from breeding areas flooded during the winter months. The wigglers develop slowly during cold weather, but growth rapidly accelerates at the warmer spring temperatures. The major portion of the crop of this type mosquito is produced during a period of a few weeks in early spring. It is at about this time that sand gnats also become annoying in areas near the salt-marsh. No effective chemical control measures are now known for controlling sand gnats, but fogging

Asphalt Base Gets Underway; Contractor Gets First Payment

Asphalt base has been completed on Chantilly Terrace and Ruella Street, according to City Hall officials. The riding surface will be applied as quickly as a sufficient number of streets are similarly prepared, so as to permit as economical an application as possible by the paving contractor.

Gulf Paving, Inc., has meanwhile received payment on its first partial estimate for the period ending April 7, in the amount of $20,100.98 less 10 percent retainage, making payment received $18,090.88. Officials say that similar estimates will be filed monthly, on or before the 10th of each month, and will be subject to approval of the resident inspector and J.G. Richard, Jr., Consulting Engineer, before payment.

Jim Harris, Gulf Paving superintendent, reported that work has begun on necessary leak repairs on old 4, 6, and 8-inch cast iron water lines, all installed a number of years ago with lead-cathodic bituminous. According to city officials, streets having these old lines are being sacrificed and rolled prior to checking the old lines for leaks to avoid possible new breakage and subsequent leakage under the weight of heavy construction equipment. At the time of installation of the new water system, the old pipes were reported sound and adequate for fire protection and were therefore not disturbed. No such repairs will be required on any of the city's new water lines, according to Mayor Scalfide.

Thirty-six leak repair clamps have been installed on St. Charles St., according to Harris, who says repairs on this street are now complete. Other streets having old cast iron water lines are Ballentine, Booker, Carroll (from Beach to Touline St.), Citizens, Hancock (from St. Charles to Washington), Keller, Sycamore, Touline, and Ullman.

Public Hearing On Subdivisions Scheduled May 5

A public hearing will be conducted at 2 p.m. May 5 by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors in connection with a list of proposed subdivisions to the present subdivision ordinance.

Prepared by former board attorney Rube Griffin and Jack D. Frisbie, director of the Gulf Regional Planning Commission, the amendments are designed to relax some of the restrictions but tighten up enforcement of the ordinance's provisions.

Since the ordinance was originally adopted, numbers of complaints have been received, particularly that provisions of the ordinance were too restrictive to developers.

New Methods Tested At MTF Firing Tuesday

The Apollo/Saturn V second stage S-28 went through an effective captive firing procedure Tuesday at the NASA MTF facility.

Ignition was at 1:45 p.m. after a perfect countdown. After reviewing (quick back data) Bob Bush, S-2 stage manager at MTF said the test was apparently a success.

The test was conducted by North American Rockwell. Engine and feedback vibrations experienced in second stage firings on previous missions resulted in changes that were implemented for this captive firing of this 81 1/2 foot long liquid hydrogen fuel rocket.

MTF has played a vital role in insuring the success of the Lunar Landing Program.

In earlier missions when the (PGO) effects were discovered in the first stage (S-1C) booster for the Saturn V, proposed modifications were implemented and conformed on a flight stage during captive firing at MTF. Subsequent study of post firing data indicated that no defective testing success would eliminate the PGO effect in the huge 7.5 million pound thrust booster.

Engineers are now evaluating data recorded during the captive firing to determine results of the special procedures used in Tuesday's firing.

Four out of the five rocket engines of the stage were captive fired for 385 seconds, however, an effort to eliminate vibrations which have occurred in late stages of burn time, the number five engine was intentionally cut off 86 seconds earlier.

A special deluge system was installed on the test tower to pull water around the center engine to protect it from ex-

Six additional candidates have qualified this week in the Mayor and Commissioners races, according to City Hall records.

Now seeking the mayor's office are Warren J. Carver, Eugene R. Dillman, Sylvan J. Laddner, Jr., Buford Parker, and incumbent John A. Scalfide.

Candidates for Commissioner Post No. 1 (Public Utilities and City Clerk) are Horatio Favre, W. M. (Bill) Frisbie, incumbent J. Cyril Glover, Joseph J. Kersanac, and Joe (Shap) Richardson.

Candidates for Commissioner Post No. 2 (Finance and Tax Collector) are Andre J. Arceneaux and incumbent Warren E. Traub.

April 12 (30 days prior to the first primary) is the deadline for candidates to qualify for the May 13 polling date.

At the regular Hancock County School Board meeting Monday, arguments were heard over a controversy in the hiring of teachers at Hancock North Central for the next school term.

A disagreement between Eugene Laddner, Superintendent of county schools, and Robert Clapp, principal at Hancock North Central, over the hiring of teachers next year was the center of activity.

Neither party seemed to agree as to particular teacher personnel. Walter James Phillips, attorney for the school board told the board that a school's principal recommends teachers to be employed and the County Superintendent "may" approve these teachers and forward them to the school board.

Although both the superintendent and the school board are empowered to remove names from the principal's list neither has the authority to add names to the list not placed there by the principal.

At present, Principal Clapp said he has presented his recommendations to Superintendent Laddner but these have not been passed on to the school board.

Superintendent Laddner said he is opposed to the recommendation of some teachers at North Central, teachers which Clapp wishes to be recommended. Therefore Clapp has allegedly refused to recommend other teachers.

In the meantime, parents of children attending the school are taking sides in the matter, some with Clapp and some with Laddner. A walkout of students, protesting failure to recommend teachers for reappointment has occurred.

Clapp told the board Monday he made his recommendations of teachers on the basis of "what I think is best for the school." Clapp is in his second year as principal at Hancock Central.

In giving his opinion that in the event the principal and superintendent could not agree on recommendations, the ruling of the school board would be upheld in court if it were protested, Attorney Phillips said the law gives the board the duty and responsibility to operate the school.

One parent present at the meeting, James Rector, in commenting on the situation, said it is "no shame the children have to suffer for the irresponsibility of leaders."

Deadline for approving teacher bids by the board for the following school year is April 18.

It was reported that over 100 students refused to attend school one day last week in protest, favoring some teachers that were not recommended for re-hiring next year.

Civil Defense Helps Rescue 5

According to Lucien Kidd, civil defense director the following persons, all residents of New Orleans were rescued safely: Jacques Livaudis, Mrs. Melford Finks, Tommy Elliott, Edwin Oliver and Rudy Oliver.

These persons were stranded for approximately 1 1/2 hours in a 14 foot boat when their boat ran out of gasoline. Those assisting Kidd in the rescue were: Pat Toomey, Hancock County Commissioner and Fire Warden, Bob Farnsworth, and Powell Weathers.

SYLVAN J. LADNER, JR.

CANDIDATE FOR

MAYOR

BAY ST. LOUIS

Please accept this as my official announcement of my candidacy for the office of Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis.

I am 33 years old, married to the former Mary Helen Bourgeois of Waveland, Miss., and we have five children, namely: Mary Toni, Sylvan III, Don Richard, Tracy Ann, and Michael Kelly. I am the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan J. Ladner, Sr. My Father served the City of Bay St. Louis for 17 years, 12 years as City Secretary and 5 years as Commissioner of Public Utilities. I am a member of Our Lady of Gulf Church, St. Stanislaus Sideline Club, Mississippi Law Enforcement Officers' Association, National Sheriff Association, and Transportation-Communication Employee's Union.

I was elected as City Commissioner in 1948 over 7 opponents in the first primary and re-elected in 1952 in the first primary over 5 opponents. In 1955 I was elected as Sheriff & Tax Collector over 13 opponents and elected again as Sheriff & Tax Collector in 1963 over 7 opponents. I am the second official within the last 50 years to have the honor of serving two terms as Sheriff & Tax Collector of Hancock County. I am now employed by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company as agent at Pass Christian, Miss.

It is with full understanding of the responsibilities and duties of the Mayor's Office that I seek this important position. The office of Mayor requires a progressive minded person, one who has experience, patience, understanding, and the ability to cooperate and work in harmony with others.

If I am elected as your Mayor, I pledge the following:

1. I will give you a progressive, experienced, and sound administration.
2. I will construct and maintain good paved streets and drainage.
3. I will not vote for any bond issue unless it is presented to the voters and approved by a favorable vote. If it is defeated, I will not slip it through the back door against the will of the majority.
4. I will establish a youth recreational program.
5. I will construct two landing ramps for launching boats, one at the northern and one at the southern sections of the city.
6. I will appoint a 10 member committee (2 from each of the 4 wards, and 2 from the new annexed territory) for the purpose of discussing and handling matters of importance.
7. I will not increase your taxes.

The above promises can and will be accomplished with no increase in taxes, but by using the present sales tax that is collected monthly by your city. The amount of sales tax that was collected by the city of Bay St. Louis in the year 1968 was $143,186.00.

I am an independent candidate as I have always been. I am not controlled by any individual, group, or organization. I will perform my duties that will be for the benefit and progress of our city.

I am appealing to each and every voter of Bay St. Louis and his and her vote and support. I will attempt to present an even record of my personal life and the needs of our city. I would like to see you personally to discuss the issues. Please accept this as my announcement of my candidacy for the office of Mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that Hancock County, through the Board of Supervisors does hereby recognize the outstanding performance and achievements obtained by Bill Thomas in his senior year at Mississippi State University, and be it further resolved that Hancock County, through its Board of Supervisors, highly commend the efforts and achievements of Bill Thomas for his outstanding recognition throughout the State of Mississippi.

DURING NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK (April 20-26) and every week, the book mobile serves young and old alike by rolling to the door (or nearly so) of every citizen of Hancock County, no matter how far he lives from the City-County Public Library. Still in use is the Mississippi Library Commission's Book Mobile which is operated by Mrs. Mildred Means who is shown here assisting two young customers, Eric Hood (foreground) and Harvey Hood, as they check out books at the Waveland stop. Purchase of the local library's own "Library on wheels" is pending decision of board of trustees who opened bids last Friday.

operations carried out to control the spring crop of fresh-water mosquitoes will sometimes give some relief from the pest problem. Fogging operations will be carried out throughout the entire three-county area as required, to handle the fresh-water mosquito problem.

The commission covers three counties, Jackson, Harrison and Hancock.

In addition to the six trucks, they have a helicopter for covering the offshore islands.

MTF Firing...

sive heat generated from the other four engines during the static firing.

This change in captive firing, directed by the S-2 project manager at the National Space Flight Center in Huntsville, was evaluated as part of the continued research and development program, designed to provide the space program with the safest and best space hardware possible.

Rocket engineers felt that pre-mature cut-off of the center engine was the solution to the vibration problem and it was tried Tuesday at MTF, the proving ground for the first and second stages of the Apollo Saturn V Moon Rocket.

DONKEY BALL GAME

Friday, April 11, 7:30 p. m., is the date for the Gulf View School Donkey Ball Game. Admission is 75¢ for adults; 50¢ for students.

Hearing...

proposed amendments from Griffin and Different at Monday's board meeting. Adoption will be pending outcome of the hearing.

In other action the board set April 21 as the date to meet with officials of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission who will explain its Smaller Communities Program. The program based on a survey of the area's labor force, will get underway in Hancock County in July and will last about three months. The only cost to the county for conducting the survey will be for the employment of personnel to man polling places in the county where residents will be urged to come to provide needed information.

Clark Malchow of Malchow Engineers, Gulfport, county engineer, informed the supervisors of a list of change orders on the Beach drive project, resulting in a net reduction of $8,546.

Also accepted by the supervisors were new petitions calling for a special election on the State-Wide Stock Law. A previous petition failed to have the required number of signatures. Hancock County is one of a few counties in the state which have open range.

General Electric Develops Transmission System at M T F

A high frequency transmission system that someday may provide inexpensive access to oceanographic and atmospheric data has been developed here by the General Electric Co.'s Mississippi Test Department.

The system, designed and built and tested in the past five months by a team of GE-MTSD engineers and technicians under the direction of A. P. Fitzpatrick, the high frequency system could prove particularly useful to weather forecasters, shipping firms, military strategists, oil and mining companies and commercial fishermen.

The device will be placed on a 14-foot-long buoy during a two Atlantic Ocean experiment next year designed to explore the feasibility of using a frequency communication system on a network of moored sea buoys to transmit certain technical data. Known as the "Sea Robin" program, the study was initiated by General Electric in 1966 in hopes it would lead to a central oceanographic atmospheric data collecting center.

Assisting Fitzpatrick in the development of the transmission system at MTSD were Bob Emerson, electrical and logic designer; Terry Edmon, systems technician; Joe Wommack, electrical engineer; Gene McGee, systems engineer; and Don Kromberg, mechanical engineer. Emerson and Lemon designed and built the system's command controls, respectively, while Wommack provided electrical support.

GE's Advanced Requirements Planning Operation at the firm's Valley Forge (Pa.) Space Technology Center is directing the Sea Robin buoy program.

The high frequency system, recently installed in the Sea Robin buoy at the Space Technology Center, will undergo a 30-day moored test 11 miles off the coast of Bermuda in May, then free-float 10 days up the Gulf Stream from South Florida to as far north as Cape Hatteras, N.C.

In line with the project's accent on austerity, the HF package utilizes inexpensive "off-the-shelf" items that have low power requirements and are light and compact.

At the heart of the experiment package is a transceiver which receives data from 26 atmospheric and oceanographic sensors, then transmits it by remote control on four frequencies. Also incorporated in the package are a power system for the transceiver, a frequency shift keyer capable of converting the sensor data signals into signals compatible with the transmitter system, and a command control logic unit.

Each component of the communication experiment package was subjected to a series of durability tests in a 1,000-gallon tank at Bay St. Louis that can reproduce ocean conditions ranging from a lazy swell to a storm-tossed sea. The package has been tested in this varying environment for up to 24 hours at a time, then inspected to determine its ability to withstand the battering. Experimental transmission have also been conducted from the test facility here to a ground station near Syracuse, N. Y.

Hospitals May Share Computers

A "computer-sharing system" for smaller hospitals was discussed by Mississippi hospital financial personnel at the annual Spring workshop of the Hospital Financial Management Association, Michael C. Wilkinson, who is assistant administrator of Mississippi State Hospital, Jackson, said. The workshop program included demonstration of a hospital accounting system by Consolidated Business Services of Memphis using telephone lines for sharing of computers.

The patient-accounting system said is a new program designed to provide accounting by remote transmission. The electronic data processing involved is applicable to hospitals of any size, but smaller hospitals might share the benefits because of costs involved, Wilkinson said.

The workshop dealt with various methods, computer-aided and out-patient billing, payroll procedures, accounting for extended facilities. Actual electronic processing equipment was displayed at the workshop, which was held at the Mississippi Hospital Association headquarters, 4880 N. Circle, Jackson.

VASCAR Means Trouble For Speeding Motorists

VASCAR is on the highways. For speeding motorists this means trouble. No longer will they feel safe when meeting a patrol car and are driving over the legal limit.

VASCAR or "visual average speed computer and recorder" has been brought into the fight against traffic deaths. In announcing the use of the new speed measuring device Commissioner of Public Safety Giles Crisler said, "Speed is a killer. Anytime there is an accident and excessive speed is involved, fatalities are common. It is our desire to reduce this type of accident and our department feels that VASCAR will be a very useful tool in our efforts."

The revolutionary speed detection device gives a patrolman the ability to clock a speeding motorist in at least twenty-three methods at anytime of the day or night. These methods are derived from four basic checks. (1) Following the sus-

Miss. Is Honor State

The Mississippi Marketing Council has been named by Governor John Bell Williams to coordinate Mississippi's participation as the "honor state" at the 24th Mississippi Valley World Trade Conference in New Orleans, April 20-22. The Mississippi Valley World Trade Council is composed of 22 states. Attending the conference will be representatives of those states as well as company officials and individuals interested in export-import trade throughout the world.

Governor Williams said that officials of the Mississippi Valley World Trade Council informed him that selection of Mississippi was based on "the overall contributions made by business and government in increasing international trade." Mississippi's selection as the "honor state", Governor Williams said, "is a tribute not only to the businessmen of Mississippi who have worked to increase Mississippi's share in world markets, but also to the Marketing Council which since its organization in 1964 has been a driving force in promoting the sale of Mississippi products abroad."

The younger guests, Glenn Rose Jr. and Della Moulton, were each given a n Easter chime rattle.

Attending from New Orleans were Leila and Joann Franks, grand-daughters of Mrs. Anna-bell Procter of Clermont Har-bor.

Hancock in Top 20 For Savings Bonds

The four Coast counties of Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, and Stone sold $319,133 in sav-ings bonds during February, according to a report issued by Rex I. Brown, chairman of the drive committee.

This brings the counties cum-ulative total to $494,665 for the first two months of 1969, which is about 22.94 per cent of their goal for the year. Hancock and Stone counties are also in the top 20 counties of the state for achieving 23.61 per cent or more of their goals. The sales and percentages for the counties in the area are: Hancock, $18,162, 28.01 per cent; Harrison, $209,700, 18.02 per cent; Jackson, $81,647, 21.33 per cent; Stone, $9,624, 26.38 per cent.

For the entire state, Febru-ary sales totaled $1,893,644 with the cumulative at $4,091,955 or 19.58 per cent of the goal of $20,900,000.

EASTER WEEKEND promised to be one of the gayest in ages as automobiles, trailers and boats began arriving in a steady caravan as early as Thursday afternoon. By Friday night there was hardly a house in darkness and several were overflowing with sorority and fraternity members who produced a spectacular after dark bonfire along the beach, despite overcast skies and patches of fog. Your reporter was jubilant -- this week's column would just have to be loaded with news. The joyous feeling persisted until Jupiter Pluvius once again teased us a curlew clouds that had merely threatened for a couple of days departed Saturday, then the rains came. People disap-peared from view as if by magic and we fear many of our anti-cipated scoops will of necessity be delayed until next week.

MANY WHO HAD made plans to take in out-of-door activities such as the Women's State Golf Championship semi-finals at Pass Christian Isles Golf Club, and exhibition tennis matches, following dedication of the new courts adjacent to Tiger Stadium, were disappointed as winds of near hurricane force accompanied a downpour which hit just about the time both were scheduled to get underway Saturday morning.

SUNDAY WAS a pleasant surprise weather-wise as the sun played a day-long game of hide-and-seek with billowing clouds. However, no precipitation fell during the annual fashion parade and everyone who had purchased a new outfit for the occasion appeared in sartorial splendor. Hats seem to regain more popularity each year and some of the 1969 chapeaux were as colorful as they were large.

THE USUAL CROWD showed up to enjoy the annual Easter dance at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Saturday night, although some still appeared a bit heavy-eyed as they dutifully trotted their offspring to the egg roll held at the club the following afternoon.

WE CAN ONLY hope that conditions will be favorable for events coming up Saturday and Sunday, April 12 and 13th., Bay-Waveland Garden Club has scheduled its annual spring flower show on those days and for the first time it will be held in the spacious Cy Rosenkhal Gymnasium at St. Augustine Seminary which will offer the added beauty of being surrounded by the grounds in full blossom.

LAS VEGAS NIGHT is also on the calendar for Saturday and a record crowd is expected to show up for this annual Cancer Fund benefit. Tickets cost only $1, and guests may either indulge in various games of chance or merely kibitz, if they prefer.

BOOKMOBILE FANS will be gratified to learn that effective Monday, this moving library will remain in Waveland until 4 p.m. each Monday and Friday. The popular gray van may be found just across Coleman Avenue from Waveland Drug on these days. We don't have a complete new schedule, but this service of the City-County Public Library in cooperation with the Mississippi Library Commission, is available to readers in the Clermont Harbor, Lakeshore, Oak Harbor and Pearlington areas each Tuesday. On Wednesday the itinerary includes Silver Creek Grocery, Cy's Store, Ladner's Store at Dedeaux; Cuevas Town, Warren's Grocery, and Klyn. Thursday it's in Rocky Hill, at Hancock North Central, Sellers Grocery, Grethel's Store, Seals Garage, Lee's Grocery, Leetown; Palmer's Grocery, Caesar and Flat Top. This facility which makes books and magazines of every type available to many who may be unable to visit the parent library is absolutely free. Book borrowers are only requested to return volumes when due, and in good condition. Bookmobile patron may also request a certain book, whether it be one of the latest best sellers, or one needed for reference by a student, and the most obliging traveling librarian, Mildred (Sis) Means, will do her best to obtain it for you when she next visits your community.

ROSEANNE AND TEDDO Thomas' son Billy was the recipient of yet another honor in his senior year at Miss-issippi State. Billy was pre-sented the Duke Noble Award as the athlete making most of his capabilities in his years at State. Mrs. Noble did the honors during ceremonies at a banquet on March 29.

SIDNEY CHEVYS, who is married to the former Beth Murtagh, is also to be con-gratulated as he attained the second highest grade among students in his graduating class at Uni-versity Medical School in Jack-son.

FELIX SEEGER is another due credit for his labors at the recent St. Stanislaus Sidelines Club seafood dinner. Among other tasks, Felix took over at the door to allow Teddo Thomas a bit of relaxation from his ticket taking duties.

WE'LL BID a reluctant fare-well to the Charles Lirette family. The Lirettes left Sat-urday for their new home in Washington, D. C.

KIKI AND EDDIE Carrere and family were among the many arriving from the Cres-cent City on Friday. We didn't get to admire Kiki's Easter bonnet, but watched Eddie pur-chase a very sporty fishing hat which he wore all weekend.

JUNE AND LOU WILLIAMS had as houseguests Mr. and Mrs. Keith Fries and son Keith, Jr. of Anaheim, Cal.

MYRTLE AND BILL Olson entertained at a family dinner party on Sunday, March 30, on the occasion of the 40th wedding anniversary of Myrtle's par-ents, Ruby and J. D. Green. Guests were Betty and Joe Co-burn, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Coburn and brother J. W. Coburn; Kim Olson, Linda Fardus and Jan and Johnny Harville.

INCIDENTALLY, Joe Co-burn is also in line for a get well wish having been hospi-talized last week with the virus that seems to be making the rounds these days.

Come Prepared for Driver's Test

"Come prepared," is the slogan given by A. R. Richburg, director of the Driver License Examination Bureau, to those people taking their driver's license examination. From the files released by the Highway Patrol, a large majority of the applicants need to heed this advice.

Richburg, Director of the Driver License Examination Bureau, under the direction of John Beall, said that during the first months of 1969, there were 11,980 written examinations. Out of these tests, 11,980 were failed. He said that the written examination is only one phase of the test in obtaining a driver's license. "The person must also pass a vision test, a road test and a sign test before a license is issued," he said. "Our officers have been thoroughly trained to administer these tests in order to determine who is qualified to join the 1 1/4 million drivers already licensed to operate vehicles on our highways."

FISHING NEWS - The old pro Dick Elliott manned the boat and allowed Aiden Mautray and Ray Garner to bring home all the trout last Wednesday.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - Bright, white lights of flounders and soft shell crabs reflecting in the waters each night at low tide; multitudes of brightly painted long handle-barred bicycles lined up in soldierly precision outside of schools all over the county; a puzzled calico cat all but breaking its neck searching for a fellow feline as it hears the sound of a mocking bird making like a kitty.

Flimsy as a Kite

What is as wonderful as a spring day, with just enough breeze to fly a new kite? It soars higher and higher, a bright blotch of color in the sky. It is a rare individual who won't pause to watch it, and, to most of us, it is perhaps a symbol of unsurpassed freedom.

Yet, in flying a kite there is need for control, or it will soon crash. What was sheer loveliness will become a crumpled heap of sticks and torn paper. This is true of many things that catch our fancies—true also of many of our dreams.

In this life, we need to learn the difference between the things that endure and those that are as flimsy as a kite in the wind. We need to learn control, courage and faith. None of these comes easily, but the first step will be found in the teachings of your church. Have you been going to church lately?

Contest Date Is Now May

Deadline for incorporated towns to enter the $3,000 "Make Municipalities Attractive" contest sponsored by the Mississippi Municipal Association has been extended to May 1st, according to the chairman, Mayor Pat Dunne of Greenville.

He said decision to extend the entry deadline was made after numerous municipalities over the state reported they had applications for entry "in process of being made, and needed the extra time to outline their programs."

"This program offers every municipality the opportunity to improve its looks, and at the same time win extra cash and recognition for the effort," the chairman said. "To enter, a municipality only has to organize a responsible committee and develop a program of work."

"The $3,000 in cash awards will be presented in November. Population categories in the contest are: centers 1,000 and under; those from 1,000 to 10,000; and those over 10,000. The first place winner in each category receives a prize of $500; the second place winner $300; and the third place winner, $200."

The official said that through

April 1st, a total of 65 municipalities, including Bay St. Louis, had submitted entries. The project is a phase of the M.M.A.'s program to help promote the state's development through beautification. Mayor Dunne's committee works closely with the Governor's Committee to "Keep Mississippi Beautiful."

HOW DO YOU MEASURE PROGRESS?

First, you look at what you once had. Then compare it with what you have now. Pick any period of time for your comparison. Like comparing 1949 with 1969. Or 1939 with 1969. Or, if you're old enough, go back to 1935 and compare what you had then with what you have now.

If you lived "out in the country" in 1935, you had a bleak outlook. Things couldn't get much worse - so you vaguely knew they had to get better. But you never dreamed you'd have all the conveniences and opportunities you have today, because many of them didn't exist then. The economy caught on and surged. You saw new highways, factories and business blossom, grow and multiply.

The advent of rural electrification was starting point for the upswing. We know electricity isn't the only reason you have more today than you did "back when." Yet, it is obvious fact that it was the largest single factor in the revolutionary changes that have taken place in Mississippi.

That largest single factor - electricity - made possible in this area only by your Electric Power Association. So figure your EPA in when you begin to measure your progress.
